

Improve Your Members' Health through Technology

Nutriinfo.com provides simple online weight and health management solutions.

Nutriinfo is an interactive online weight and health management system created with the latest technology by experts.

Put our solution to work for your health club members.

Health Clubs:

Increase your membership: Offering valuable services to your members is critical to your success. By adding Diet Manager to your services, you can offer new members access to experts in nutrition and fitness; impressive community and support sections and a way to keep your members connected when they are away from the gym.

Strengthen your relationship: Trainers and dietitians can monitor individual progress of their clientele. Sending reminders and notes of encouragement will keep your members on track to hit their goals.

Convenience: Through the use of the program, empower your members to achieve their health goals by providing them with the tools to self-monitor their weight, health and fitness any time, anywhere.

Cost: The program is an easy, affordable tool that positively impact the overall health and well-being of your members.

Engagement and Support: We'll provide unlimited tech-support to help your staff manage your members in an efficient way.

Your Members:

Tools for Success: Self-monitoring of weight, food intake, and exercise is proven to increase success in reducing health risks, achieving a healthy weight and lifestyle.

Expert Advice: Our team of experts will answer questions submitted online. Through this interactive process, we'll help your members optimize their weight loss efforts, improve their level of physical fitness, and achieve a healthy lifestyle.

Support: Subscribers benefit from personalized newsletters based on individuals' diet plan settings. In addition to the self-monitoring tools, our community section provides valuable resources for information and inspiration.

Empower your members to attain a healthy lifestyle and improve their health with our cutting-edge online health solutions!
