

Online Weight and Health Management Program for Organizations

Our online weight and health management program, Diet Manager, was developed with cutting-edge technology, creating a dynamic and user-friendly web experience. The program includes key self-monitoring diet tools that help individuals keep track of their weight, food intake, exercise, and health indicators (blood sugar, blood cholesterol, blood pressure, etc). It also provides a scientific analysis, individualized advice, and support for weight control and health management.

Why is Diet Manager Unique? Our program is unique since it engages individuals with health professionals by providing member management tools: Health professionals or group staff can view individual's logged information and provide feedback and support from their administration pages. Interactive communication, support, and inspiration may help individuals stick to the weight management program and thus help them move towards their health and wellness goals.

Who Would Benefit?

Diet Manager is a perfect solution for health professionals or organizations for patients' health care or wellness programs. By providing convenient and simple online health management tools to individuals, organizations will not only improve health care quality but also save on cost!

- Healthcare professionals or hospitals: Monitor patients/clients' diet progress
- Companies: Corporate wellness programs for their employees
- Universities: Student health benefit programs
- Health clubs: Member nutrition coaching programs
- Insurance companies: Member benefits for their disease prevention or management

How Does It Work?

We offer Diet Manager at an affordable cost to organizations or companies through licensing. The program is also offered at a discounted rate to individuals of our partnered organizations.

- Licensing: The Diet Manager licensing package is flexible to accommodate organizations' needs. Organizations may license the program based on the size of the organization and receive discounted licensing rates with more individuals. We also customize the program and licensing plan for organizations to meet their specific needs. If organizations do not offer wellness programs, we develop the right plan for their individuals by providing online program plus group nutrition education or one-on-one assistance at an affordable cost.
- Partnership: Through a partnership with Nutriinfo.com, organizations can provide member discount benefits, 15 % off the regular membership fees, to their individuals when they sign up for services at Nutriinfo.com. We provide free access to admin page where group staff can monitor their individuals' progress and a customized login page from partnered organizations' web sites.

Upon licensing or establishing the partnership with us, your individuals will have access to Diet Manager at Nutriinfo.com for free or at a discounted rate. We provide unlimited customer and tech support to help staff and individuals fully utilize the program for health care.

For more information about licensing or partnership, email or call us. Thank you for your business.
